THREE DEFINITIONS

Oculist

A physician who treats pathological conditions of the eye, such as granulated lids, glaucoma, etc., and does eye surgery. He frequently prescribes glasses, however.

Optometrist

One who is recognized by the laws of 27 States as The Eye-sight Specialist. He does not treat diseased conditions of the eye, nor does he resort to the unscientific practice of paralyzing the muscles of the eyes by the use of belladonna, or other drugs, in making a diagnosis.

Optician

One who makes and repairs spectacles. He is NOT an eye specialist in any sense, but either simply sells glasses or fills the prescriptions of the Optometrist.

Roasted Victim Alive.

An almost unbelievably cruel happening has come to light at Hiroshima, Japan. There a man and his wife have been arrested for willfully cremating a live man. The prisoners were in charge of a crematorium, and while at work a faint voice coming out of a coffin begged for fresh air. The couple took no notice, however, and proceeded to apply fire, roasting the man alive.

Value of Contentment.

A contented mind is the greatest blessing a man can enjoy in this world, and if, in the present life, his happiness arises from conquering his desires, it will arise in the next from the gratification of them.

THE NEW SPORT.

"There here New Yorkers is bound to have their sports, I see," said Uncle Silas.

"In what way?" asked the boarder.

"Why," said Uncle Silas, "since they give up hoss racin' they've gone in heavy for the turkey trot. Don't seem to me's if thet could be very excitin'."—Harper's Weekly.

SENSITIVE ON THE SUBJECT.

"For mercy sake, don't ask Mrs. Joggins to join a shut-in society!"

"Why not?"

"Her husband's doing time."

THE SOLUTION.

"Do you believe Shakespeare wrote his own plays?"

"What's the odds? If he didn't, he wrote somebody else's."

EMBARRASSING REQUEST.

Guest—Would you give me an infinitesimal portion of wine?

Host (dubiously)—I'm afraid we haven't that much in the house.

A HARD ONE.

"Don't you think Jim's profile is somewhat on a prognathous order?"

"Well, you know, I did beg him to see a doctor about it."

The World Plays Fair.

Depend upon this: You get what is coming to you, be it a big honor or a swift swipe.
